IN 1933, Joe Primanti opened our doors to dock crews and truck drivers who worked the produce warehouses of Pittsburgh's Strip District. A little luck and a little genius led Joe to top his sandwiches with fried potatoes and a handful of slaw. No sides, no forks and no need for a plate meant Joe's customers could eat with one hand and work with the other. Now, more than 86 years later – Joe's vision continues to grow – with millions of Primanti sandwiches sold at locations far and wide.
